CASE STUDY

Inbound Customer Service

Managing SLA during seasonal demand
fluctuations

THE COMPANY

Millennium Trust is a financial services company that provides automatic roll-over IRA solutions for companies who are unable to locate former employers that still have funds in old IRA/pension accounts.

Established in 2000, Millennium Trust began by focusing on unique custody solutions where no one else would or could. Today, they're known for their ability to solve for the most complex custody requirements and craft new solutions for our clients.

THE CHALLENGE

The company had 2 challenges:

01

Managing seasonal call volume and staffing fluctuations

02

Increasing customer satisfaction with First Call Resolution

THE SOLUTION

Some of the critical components of our Inbound Customer Service program included:

- QCS built a core team of agents to act as an extension of the client's internal team year-round.
 - Supplemented the team to handle seasonal demand by engaging multiple call center locations.
- Agent workstations were fully integrated with client systems for seamless workflow management and resource sharing.
- Enhanced recruiting and background check processes to improve agent quality and training graduation rates.
- Developed agent incentive programs to foster retention and ensure proper staffing during busy season. i.e. attendance and stay bonuses + SLA adherence bonus.
- Continuous monitoring and focused training modules to ensure ongoing quality assurance.
- Enhanced workforce management reporting to improve productivity. Identified and solved for hurdles that led to a reduction in after-call work time.

THE RESULTS

SLA

Achievement during peak AND off-peak seasons

3%

Increase in First Call Resolution by providing a Spanish Bilingual CSR option

9.5%

DECREASED

Burnout in Millennium Trust's internal call center

“The team Quality Contact Solutions exceeded our expectations! Their flexibility and ability to increase staffing during peak periods enabled us to service our customers while decreasing our internal team’s burnout. If you’re considering outsourcing your inbound calls, I would highly recommend partnering with QCS.”
